Client Money General The FCA rules are designed to protect you in the event that an insurance intermediary fails or is unable to transfer:

- Any premium money it has received from you to the insurer; or
- Any claims or return premium monies that it has received from the insurer to you.

We are governed by the strict rules pertaining to Client Money set down by the FCA. Where we hold monies in a client bank account we may earn interest on monies held, which will be retained by us.

In most circumstances we act as agents for the insurer for the collection of premiums and payments of claims and refund of premiums. This means that premiums are treated as being received by the insurer when received in our bank account and that any claims money or premium refund is treated as received by you when it is actually paid over to you. There are occasions where such transactions are restricted (for example, to receiving premiums only) and we will tell you if this is the case.

We will hold client money separate from our own money with an approved bank, segregated in a client bank account, designated as subject to a Non-Statutory Trust. Under a Non-Statutory Trust we are entitled to use client money to make advances of credit, for example to pay another client's premium before the premium has been received from the other client, and to pay claims and premium refunds to a client before such monies have been received from the insurer. We act as Trustees of our clients' monies and must meet certain legal and regulatory conditions.

Under the terms of our client bank account, which has been set up in accordance with strict rules laid down by the Financial Conduct Authority, we are required to inform you that we may use your individual premium to settle premiums due, under other policies (including those payable by other clients).

We may transfer client money to another person such as another broker or settlement agent for the purpose of effecting a transaction on your behalf through that person. We do however still remain responsible to you in respect of your money.

Money Laundering/Proceeds of Crime Act We are obliged to report to the Serious Organised Crime Agency (SOCA), any evidence or suspicion of money laundering at the first opportunity and we are prohibited from disclosing any such report.

Bribery Act It is the firm's intention to meet the requirements of the Bribery Act 2010. If a form is completed on your behalf, you should check that the answers shown to any of the questions are true and accurate before signing the document. Failure to provide requested information to your insurers could invalidate your insurance cover and mean that part or all of a claim may not be paid.

You should not admit liability or agree to any course of action (other than emergency measures to minimise your loss) until you have agreement from your insurer. We will forward payments received from insurers, in respect of any claim, to you without delay. We will notify you of any request for information we receive from your insurers.

Claims and Underwriting Register and Motor Insurance Anti-Fraud Register Insurers pass information to the Claims and Underwriting Exchange Register operated by Database Services Ltd and the Motor Insurance Anti-Fraud Register compiled by the Association of British Insurers. The objective is to check information provided and to prevent fraudulent claims. Motor Insurance details are also added to the Motor Insurance Database operated by the Motor Insurer's Information Centre (MIIC) which has been formed to help identify uninsured drivers and may be accessed by the police to help confirm who is insured to drive.
